STOCK MARKET FAIRLY ACTIVE

There Was Liberal Realtizing Under Cover of Upward Movement

STEEL STOCKS WERE IRREGULAR

Bond Market Was Unprecedentedly Active and Prices Have Advanced Steadily-The Local and Tobacco Markets.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Feb, 3.—Tô-day's stock market was tree from sensational movements, but was fairly active. It was evident that realizing was going on on a fiberal scale, especially in the nigh-grade railroad stocks, under cover of the very low-priced stocks in both the railroad and industrial lists. Among the cannotates for layor in this direction were Sunnard Rope, Leather, Mexican National, and some other stocks of a similar grade, which showed continuance of yesterday's strength.

Pacific preferred was sold down sharply to 87.

Chicago and Eastern Illinois was pushed up 6%, but reacted 2½, and Louisyille and Missouri Pacific were rather firm. The steel stocks moved rather narrowly and were irregular.

Speculators in these stocks seemed indisposed to await the expected authorized announcement of the reported plan for adjustment of control in the steel trade before making further commitments. The bank statement brought some further selling upon the market, but vigorous support was forthcoming, and no further serious inroads were made upon prices. The further large impairment of reserves disclosed by the bank statement, and the probability that the steel deal is yet to be provided for undoubtedly some-prices: The further large impairment of reserves disclesed by the bank statement, and the probability that the steel deal is yet to be provided for undoubtedly somewhat chilled speculative enthesiasm, but attacking the market, in view of the important possibilities of further great financial projects.

This week's increase of $25.481.200 in the outstanding loans and discounts of the banks bringing the total loan expansion for the last four weeks up to $87.287.000, which is far in excess of any previous increase in the same length of time in the history of the clearing-house. The soothing assurances given out by some of the principals in the pending steel negotiations of the certainty that this vast project can be carried out without a ripple in the money market, do not carry universal conviction, in face of these figures of the results of the loss important railroad deals which have been carried through.

The tendency of the money market which is thus indicated lessens the probability that American subscriptions to the new British loan will be large. To-day's Sub-Treasury statement reflects the receipts by the Government of a check for nearly $3,000,000 in payment of a note of the Central Pacific Railroad to the Government. It is probable, also, that the demand for money in the interior will show some growth from this time on with the opening of spring trade.

The railroad bond market has been almost unprecedentedly active, and prices have advanced more steadily than those of stacks. Low-grade speculative or semi-speculative bonds have been in large domand. United States refunding 2's declined is and the 3's advanced in per cent. Over the call price of a week.
